Tri-Area Library

Finding Aid prepared by Eric Spall, 2018

Provenance

Collection found amongst the papers of the Lebanon Public Library Archives; removed to its own collection in January 2018.

Scope and Content

This collection contains the Tri-Area Library’s bylaws, a balance sheet for 1980, notices of intent to consider an amendment to article IX of the articles of incorporation of Tri-Area Library, Inc., a 1982 Ways and Means Committee report, and a 1983 Ser-Up [sic] and Maintenance Committee report.

Background

The Tri-Area Library is a volunteer library in Jamestown, Boone County, Indiana. It was organized in 1980 and opened for service in January 1981. Originally in one room next to the Bob Phelps Barber shop on W. Main Street, the library moved to S. Walnut Street in 1984. In 1997, it moved back to W. Main Street into the building formerly occupied by the State Bank of Lizton.

Sources

Access Restrictions: None

Preferred Citation: Tri-Area Library, Special Collections, Ralph W. Stark Heritage Center, Lebanon Public Library, Lebanon, IN.