Provenance

Unknown

Scope and Content

This collection contains minute books from the Cooking Club in Lebanon.

Series

I. Minute Books, 2 vols., 1911-1924, 1928-1934

Background

The Cooking Club is a women’s social club in Lebanon, Indiana. It was organized in 1906 in the home of Jennie Ralston, wife of future Indiana governor Samuel Ralston. The club’s organization was sponsored by Lebanon’s Domestic Science Club.

Sources

“Club’s Silver Anniversary.” Lebanon Reporter, January 30, 1932.

“Initial Meeting for the Year.” Lebanon Patriot, October 18, 1906.

Access Restrictions: None

Related Holdings: Cooking Club Scrapbooks, Vols. 1-5 (HER 367 B6LEB COO): scrapbooks compiled by Judy Walburn, covering 1934-2011, contain minutes, correspondence, programs, and photographs; Vertical Files: Clubs

Preferred Citation: Cooking Club, Special Collections, Ralph W. Stark Heritage Center, Lebanon Public Library, Lebanon, IN.