Scope and Content

This collection contains a Lebanon National Bank checkbook from the 1890s and the Bank’s Current Individual Ledger, volume L-Z, covering the years 1900-1910.

Series I:  Checkbook--The book may have belonged to E. Dickerson.  The checks are blank, but there are three header sheets from used checks indicating the dates of the used checks, the recipients, and amounts.  There is also a letter from E. Dickerson to Lafayette Wilson dated January 12, 1895.

Series II:  Current Individual Ledger--The ledger provides the name of the account holder and dated entries for Checks in Detail, Total Checks, Deposits, and Balances.

Background

The Lebanon National Bank was organized in 1882.  Lebanon city directories for 1900-1910 list it at 106 North Lebanon Street.  The bank closed in 1910 after entering voluntary liquidation.
